WHAT IS DIAMONDKAST?

WHAT IS IT?

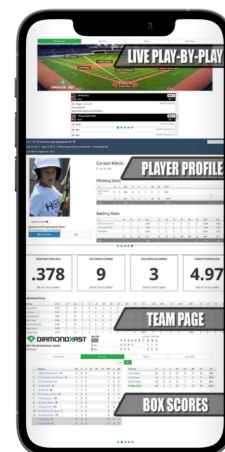

DiamondKast games feature live-scoring so anyone can follow the game using any device. DiamondKast games also keep stats for every player and every team, and those stats provide leaderboards that celebrate both teams and players' accomplishments throughout the event.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

We provide PG Midwest staff at every field to score games using DiamondKast. Once you have subscribed, you can use our links through Perfect Game to follow scores and leaderboards!

Scouting Notes

Gunner Sutton (2025, Hillsboro, Mo.) posted a .786 OPS on the weekend and slugged two doubles. He was at the center of the Tigers' run-scoring all weekend by scoring a total of five runs. Really shined on the mound with his power stuff. Didn't allow a single earned run over his four innings of work and struck out six on the way.

Brenan Goering (2025, St. Charles, Mo.) showed big-time power by blasting a long home run on the first day of the tournament. He ended up hitting .400 and also slugged two doubles. Was a run-creator both days by scoring six runs and driving in another nine. Also compiled a 0.00 ERA on the mound in four innings of work. Struck out seven batters in his time on the mound.

Ryker Benz (2025, St. Louis, Mo.) was named Tournament Most Valuable Player after dominating on both sides of the ball all weekend. At the plate he ended up hitting .600 with a 1.514 OPS while showing off the pop in his bat by slugging four doubles. Was also at the center of creating runs for the Dynamite by scoring a total of seven runs and driving in six. On the mound he tossed 5 1/3 innings and posted a 0.00 ERA. In those innings on the mound he punched out eight batters while only allowing one hit.

Bryce Daniel (2025, O'Fallon, Mo.) ended the weekend with a .571 average and a 1.557 OPS after scoring two runs, as well as driving in a pair of runs. Showed off the pop in his bat by hitting a pair of doubles on the weekend as well. Threw 6 1/3 innings on the mound where he didn't allow a single earned run and struck out 11 hitters without issuing a walk.
